Annual Leave Loading Limit - May 2015 ABS figure

The ABS has advised that the May 2015 quarter average weekly earnings (trend) figure for all Australian males is $1,370.30.

Many universities have a maximum annual leave loading payable under their enterprise agreements, and have traditionally used the ABS August quarter average weekly earnings (trend) figure for all Australian males for this purpose. The ABS, however, no longer issues August average weekly earnings figures, as it now only produces biannual figures for November and May of each year in the following February and August respectively. For further details please see the ABS spreadsheet.
